Press Releases

Sara Armbruster becomes Steelcase President and Chief Executive Officer

Armbruster is the 10th CEO in the 109-year history of Steelcase

GRAND RAPIDS, Michigan; October 4, 2021 – Steelcase Inc. (NYSE: SCS) announced today Sara Armbruster has succeeded Jim Keane as president and chexecutive officer. Keane, who previously announced his plan to retire in January will continue at Steelcase as vice chair until his retirement from the company.

Armbruster brings more than two decades of experience in corporate strategy as business innovation. Since joining Steelcase in 2007, she has held global execut leadership roles in multiple businesses, including Steelcase Education, Steelcase Health and PolyVision Corporation. Armbruster has a proven track record of delivers growth and innovation through strategic, results-oriented leadership. Her diverse responsibilities have included leading information technology, global design resented business initiatives and the company's global COVID crisis response team.

"Sara's leadership and experience in user-centered design clearly make her the choice to lead Steelcase as CEO," said Rob Pew, Steelcase Board Chair. "Sara ha uncanny ability to see around corners, which is just what our customers need as explore the many ways work and workplaces have changed in the past two year She will build on the strong foundation established by Jim Keane to lead an exemplary, global management team into the next era of Steelcase."

"I am honored to guide Steelcase into this next chapter," said Armbruster.

"Organizations are exploring the new ways work is happening, and we're at the center of those discussions. We believe the office continues to be critical to cultuand innovation — and we believe better is possible. We're delighted to help our customers improve their experience with work no matter where, or how, that happens."

As CEO, Armbruster will focus on global growth strategies designed to meet evolution to meet and will continue the company's long legacy of excellence in environmental, social and governance issues. Steelcase recently released its 202 Impact Report, which shares progress made against goals in each of these areas along with the company's vision to use business as a force for good.

"There is an incredible energy within our organization," said Armbruster. "We're united in purpose, focused on our strategic vision and well positioned to serve o customers around the world. I can't think of a more compelling time to step into role of CEO."

About Steelcase

Organizations around the world trust Steelcase to help them create places that it people work better, be inspired and accomplish more. The company designs, manufactures and partners with other leading organizations to provide architect furniture and technology solutions – accessible through a network of channels, including over 800 Steelcase dealer locations. Steelcase is a global, industry-lea and publicly traded company with fiscal year 2021 revenue of $2.6 billion. For minformation, visit www.steelcase.com/asia-en/.