

Our Approach

We believe a thoughtfully designed ecosystem supports employee wellbeing by providing individuals and groups a range of destinations and technologies within the workplace that support the ways people create. By considering design, materiality, and uncompromising performance – for the employee, for the organization, and for designers & decision makers – employees and organizations can unlock their promise.

Steelcase and FLOS

In addition to investment in our own inspiring spaces portfolio, we recognize that more and more, organizations recognize the value of creating inspiring places unique to their culture and brand, and want more solutions across a palette of postures and an array of aesthetics. Not only are their people desperately seeking spaces to escape the monotony of their day, research shows that these spaces help develop deeper relationships between peers and build trust.

Just as we seek choice to furnish our homes, choice is key to creating inspiring spaces where people want to work. To enrich our portfolio, we have partnered with a diverse network of organizations around the world, enriching our own offering and promising greater value to Steelcase customers.

Steelcase now offers the decorative collection of FLOS lighting including pendants, sconces, table & floor lamps throughout the U.S. and Canada. Founded by Sergio Gandini in 1962 in Merano, Italy, FLOS has cultivated long and successful partnerships with many of the world's most renowned designers to create inspirational solutions. FLOS products are included in many permanent collections of design and art museums around the world.

The FLOS lighting collection leverages our ability to provide compelling solutions for ancillary settings. Lighting is a powerful tool to create inspiring spaces; welcoming users and fostering the conditions for creativity. Our relationship adds to an already extensive Steelcase portfolio, offering greater choice and reducing the complexity of delivering projects through consolidated Steelcase distribution serviced by the largest dealer network in the industry.
