

Track-B

A multi-use upholstered meeting chair

orangebox

Product Description

Track-B is a new addition to the Smartworking landscape of products; younger sibling to the well-established Avi. While Avi offers a lounge sitting position, Track-B provides a more upright posture, for short-term focused work.

An additional layer of comfort is offered when Track-B is specified with a dynamic tilting mechanism – available on the central column and four-star base only – allowing a gentle rocking movement.

Track-B provides a refined level of comfort and durability, and is available with either a central column with four-star base or a wire frame base, both of which are available in our standard metal finishes.
