Steelcase Workplace Advisor Solutions

STUDY Short-term Space Measurement

Steelcase Workplace Advisor Study is a short-term space measurement engagement that combines sensor data, analysis and consultation. The process reveals what's working and what's needed in your workplace to inform decisions before or after a major capital investment.

SUBSCRIPTION Continuous Space Measurement

Steelcase Workplace Advisor Subscription is a continuous space measurement tool that lets organizations monitor, quantify and optimize ongoing workplace performance with data on real-time usage and trends. It provides actionable insights that can reduce costs and improve performance over time.

FIND Mobile App

Steelcase Find makes finding and reserving the best workspaces quick and simple. It shows workers what's available and which amenities are present – from natural light, to technology, to whiteboards and more – so people spend less time searching and more time collaborating and creating.

WHAT TO EXPECT

Data that informs – accurate sensor data and valuable insights you need to drive real change.

Investments that perform – so that people, place and technology work productively and efficiently toward your shared purpose.

Spaces that respond – to simplify space reservation, leverage the real-time occupancy data of Workplace Advisor Subscription to enable Auto Book and Auto Release and free people to focus on what matters – doing their best work.
