

Coastline Adds Verb to Classroom

See what happens when two classes at Coastline Community College experience a Verb classroom for the first time.

See what happens when two classes at Coastline Community College experience a Verb classroom for the first time. From multiple modes of learning to engaged and participative students, Verb instantly transforms the learning environment by offering flexibility and collaborative tools for students and instructors. The Verb classroom collection provides an active learning environment, exactly what Coastline Community College students and faculty were looking for.

June 2013