Migration SE
Height-Adjustable Desks,
Benches and Tables

Steelcase

The Migration SE family is a height-adjustable product range that delivers long-term flexibility, value and user wellbeing. Supporting a broad range of applications, this simple, reliable range provides workers the ability to choose between seated or standing postures throughout the day.

An Ergonomic Solution With All The Essentials

When people come to the office, they not only want to collaborate and connect with colleagues, but they also expect high-performance products, where height adjustment is an essential requirement. The Migration SE product range is designed to deliver flexibility, value and user wellbeing.

Statement of Line

Desks + Benches

The Migration SE height-adjustable desk and bench offer long-term flexibility by easily allowing a desk to convert to a bench, and back again. You can also convert a fixed-height desk to a height adjustable desk with minimal additional parts.

Meeting + Collaboration Tables

The Migration SE Height-Adjustable Meeting Table allows people to easily change postures with a click of a button, offering a flexible meeting experience and fostering increased productivity. It can be used for a wide range of settings within the office such as collaborative, breakout or meeting areas. Settings can be adapted depending on the need of the teams, changing from a traditional conference setting to a stand-up meeting or flexible brainstorming session with the press of a button.

Migration SE Height-Adjustable Meeting Table: Features + Options

Design

Unique Top Shape

The super ellipse top shape is made from a continuous curve, while the organic form provides user comfort no matter where they are around the table. This makes it ideal for collaboration and promoting inclusivity. The unique top is available in seven different sizes in a melamine or linoleum finish.

Legs

Migration SE Height-Adjustable Meeting Table provides vast application options through the T- and 4-leg bases. Various colour combinations make customization effortless.

Controller

Democratic Access

Two integrated controllers in the top distribute democratic access for height adjustment to all participants around the table.

Controller Interface

The controller has a programmable user interface, allowing for preset table heights.

Power + Cabling

Power Access

The “Power Island” in the middle of the table provides access to power through sockets and USB A+C so participants can quickly charge smaller devices like laptops or phones while collaborating. A convenient cork surface holds space for essential meeting tools like pens or post-its.

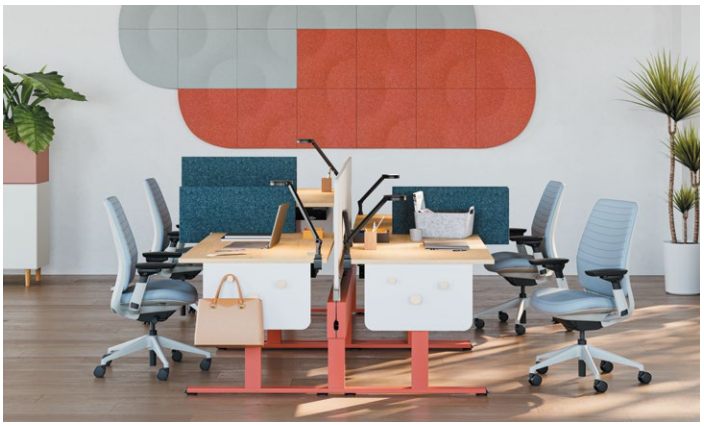

Cable Net

The cable net under the work surface of the 4-Leg version manages the cords down to the floor. The cable management of the T-Leg version is hidden in the beam of the understructure. In both versions, a single spiral cable manages the cabling down to the floor.

Applications

Supporting a broad range of applications, its modularity provides flexibility for organizations looking for ways to update, reuse and improve their space over time.

Migration SE Desks with a two-sided fence and side modesty panels with wooden knobs

This set-up is similar to a traditional bench and functions much the same way, but with slightly different aesthetics. The modesty panel is designed to offer all the needed privacy in a collaborative space, while the wooden knobs allow for effortlessly hanging bags next to the workstation. The fence configuration provides a cost-effective way to convert two single desks into a bench and back again, helping organizations easily adapt their space based on changing needs.

Migration SE Desks with Modesty Screen, Freestanding Fence and Bag Drop

Migration SE with freestanding fence allows for desks to be positioned next to one another, yet not attached — easily bringing power into a space, providing visual and acoustic privacy and helping delineate boundaries in the open plan. The added bag drop also allows for a safe and efficient way to store belongings away from the working area.

Migration SE H-Bench with center screen and cable trough

The Migration SE H-bench offers additional space for cable management offering easy access to power. The center screen offers additional privacy while being out in the open.

Migration SE U-Bench with Modesty Screen and Side Modesty Panels with Wooden Knobs

The fence spacers on the Migration SE U-Bench allows two single desks to be easily and effortlessly converted into a bench. This cost-effective bench solution is ideal for organizations that don’t have extensive cable management needs. The central modesty screen, paired with the side modesty panel, shelters people from their surroundings, allowing them to maintain their focus in the open space.

Private Office with Migration SE Height-Adjustable Meeting Table and Migration SE Desk

This owned office provides a comfortable space for leaders to easily transition from focus work to collaboration. The height adjustable work surface of Migration SE Height-Adjustable Meeting Table allows the user to make these shifts easily and quickly while optimizing performance for either a person and remote users using the Microsoft Surface Hub or a 1:1 meeting in person. Stools could be used when setting the table in a standing position or be tucked away in the corner while using poufs when the table is set at task height.

Hybrid Project Room with Migration SE Height-Adjustable Meeting Table

The meeting space allows users to collaborate effectively with in-person and remote participants. Pairing the Migration SE Height-Adjustable Meeting Table with stools on casters enables users to freely position themselves and set the table at the desired height for an inclusive user experience.

Social Hub with Migration SE Height-Adjustable MeetingTable

A centrally located social space allows multiple teams and individuals to gather, socialize, grab a cup of espresso or have a casual meeting. The Migration SE Height-Adjustable Meeting Table can be used to have an informal meeting in combination with the Steelcase Flex Media Cart. Pairing this table with stackable chairs gives the user choice and control over the number of people using the space. Furthermore, by putting them away, the table could be raised and used for hosting purposes, like client visits or after-office events.
