An Office for Research and Publishing

This faculty has chosen a kit of parts to better support research and the pressure of publishing.

It has zones for shallow and deep focusing, creating, thinking and storing.

The height-adjustable desk provides a place for shallow and deep focus tasks while encouraging movement for long durations.

A comfortable work lounge gives another postural choice for concentrating and creating.

Ample storage supports a range of reference materials.
Whiteboards keep ideas outlined and within view.
