The Apprise™ Collection

Steelcase®

Designed to Endure, Made to Comfort

The Apprise Collection is designed to bring both emotional and physical comfort to healthcare environments. Its welcoming, residential-inspired forms support the body with contoured cushions and thoughtful details that feel like home. Durable materials and easy cleanability meet the demands of healthcare.

Welcoming by Design

From the first moments in a waiting room to extended stays at a patient's side, the Apprise Collection offers calm reassurance every step of the care journey.

Familiar Comfort

Welcoming, residential-inspired forms with soft contours and supportive cushions provide lasting physical comfort, helping people feel at ease during longer waits and bringing a sense of home to care environments.

Purpose-Built Performance

Durable construction, bleach-cleanable materials and performance features support the demands of high-use clinical settings.

Cohesive + Scalable Design

Shared forms and a consistent design language help healthcare environments feel naturally connected. With a timeless aesthetic and scalable options, Apprise creates a seamless, comforting experience across spaces—and throughout the care experience.

Comfort in Every Care Space

Waiting takes place in many spaces throughout healthcare environments. Apprise is designed for wherever those moments occur, supporting different spaces, durations and emotional needs while maintaining a consistent, calming presence.

Welcoming in Waiting Areas

A mix of guest seating, lounge seating and tables creates inviting, flexible settings that support families, patients and visitors as they wait or connect.

Support in Clinical Settings

Apprise brings warmth and comfort to clinical settings, helping people feel at ease in spaces often defined by precision and procedure.

Arm Options

Available with open or fully upholstered arms and a variety of overhang arm cap finishes, Apprise supports ease of movement and safer ingress and egress—enhancing approachability for a wide range of users.

Designed for Healthcare

Apprise serves a range of people’s needs across a variety of spaces. Delivering durable construction, adaptable comfort and material options suited for clinical environments.

Serviceable Construction

Patent-pending construction allows on-site servicing of cushion components, helping reduce downtime, extend product life and support long-term value in healthcare environments.

Flex Back Support

Each seat flexes independently to support positive movement and adapts to a range of postures—helping provide lasting comfort for different users and lengths of stay.

Material Flexibility

A wide selection of healthcare-ready surface materials supports durability, cleanability and aesthetic consistency across care environments.

Welcoming by Design

Apprise guest seating delivers adaptable comfort and flexible support, creating a warm and welcoming experience across diverse exam rooms, waiting spaces and patient environments.
