

Designtex offers surface materials across many product categories that comply with the Healthier Hospitals (HH) Safer Chemicals Challenge, Version 2. As a recognized innovator, Designtex is known for its dedicated approach to the research and development of products with reduced environmental impact. Designtex aims to benefit the marketplace as a whole by sharing its insights through leadership positions in industry organizations.

In accordance with the goals of Healthier Hospitals, these products avoid the use of intentionally-added PVC, PFC stain resistant finishes, flame retardants and formaldehyde without sacrificing performance or durability. These products also avoid the use of antimicrobials or meet the exemption criteria stated in HH Safer Chemicals Challenge, Version 2. The wallcoverings are produced in our Portland, Maine facility and are certified to SCS indoor Advantage Gold for low emissions. Designtex continues to add offerings to this list as we develop and release new healthy materials for use in healthcare. Please check back often.
